Trouble Making

Mr. Tarte Has Been in the Business Twenty Five Years.

He Asserts His Right to Discuss
All About the Tariff Question.

F. D. Monk Will Attend the Conservative Banquet at Winnipeg.

Berlin, Ont., Oct. 11.—(Special).—Speaking at a banquet here, Mr. Tarte said he was firmly convinced that Canada should have a firm, healthy tariff. "There are some," he said, humorously, "who say I make a fool of myself when I talk about a tariff. I don't care a line, they say. Now, I want to tell you I have been discussing the tariff for 20 years, perhaps before some of those who are criticizing today were born (laughter). I am not going to get into a quarrel with those who are mad over this thing. I think a man goes on telling the truth and acting in a conscientious manner, he will be backed up by the people. I want to ask my friends to be fair. I have been untrue to my leaders, and my party, and my revision of the tariff which the Minister of Finance announced is taking place?"

Mr. Tarte said in conclusion, that he had not been squarely treated by his friends. He had been asked to go to the service of his party. He had given a great part of his life to the Conservative party.

"And I am proud of it," declared Mr. Tarte, "and I would a man who had the interests of this country at heart. Sir John Macdonald, I have followed another good man, Sir Wilfrid, but I do not intend to be put down now. I have been asked to advance the view of the best people of this country."

"Do not let us be a divided people. Our duty is to work together. Do not business in Canada without having a executive office in the country was something new to him. He asked what a letter he written explaining the whole situation, and he would go thoroughly into it, the moment he reached home. He also promised Mayor Needands that he would look well into the question of Vancouver street ends. It was represented that the city desired to control the ends of certain streets to the water, and the C. P. R. wanted to get control of those ends. The Mayor was anxious to learn the city's rights in the matter.

HAYTI.

Care Haytien, Oct. 11.—The provincial government of Hayti announced that Port au Prince on Thursday last Gen. Nord had again occupied the town and the Arblite army at Limbe and on Wednesday the general attacked the Arblite army at Limbe and at Port Margot, and succeeded in entering Limbe and burning Port Margot. The Arblite army was then forced to retreat in disorder, leaving behind him many dead and wounded and two rapid fire guns. The Arblite forces also effected a large capture of arms. Gen. Salvadore, commander of the Arblite army, continued his advance against the troops of Gen. Nord, who is reported to have been ordered to retreat. It is believed that he will compel him to abandon his base of operations.

A later report says Gen. Nord, war minister of the provisional government, has been defeated and is in retreat.

SIR FREDERICK BORDEN.

Makes Announcement in Foreign Country Instead of at Home.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 11.—Sir Frederick Borden, Canadian minister of militia, who is a visitor in this city, in an interview today, made known the fact that the Canadian and British governments had decided to jointly establish a fast Atlantic steamship service between Halifax, N. S., and Liverpool ports, with an annual subsidy of $1,250,000 for ten years.

Sir Frederick also said that Canada was not seeking reciprocity with the United States, because she was rapidly developing a large foreign trade in other directions.

The statement of the minister in regard to the proposed Canadian trans-Atlantic steamship service showed that real progress had been made in the settlement of this question. It is practically decided, Sir Frederick said, to establish without delay a service beginning with 20-knot vessels, to be operated by the Canadian government and $375,000 additional from the British government. He could not say yet whether the Canadian Pacific railway, or a syndicate of steamship companies comprising the Allan, Elder-Douglas and other lines, would get the contract. The steamers will make their terminus, in winter at least, at Halifax. The terminus in the United Kingdom will probably be Liverpool.

The initial twenty-knot service, while not as fast as the swift ships on the lines running from New York, will be the best for Canada under present circumstances, he said. This speed, he continued, is not by any means the end of what it is intended to make this service. A new fleet of ships will be built, and there will be frequent sailings. The minister said that the new service will be established at an early date.

With reference to reciprocity between Canada and the United States, Sir Frederick said that a fair treaty would be advantageous to both, but that Canada had become a great competitor of the United States in many lines of the British market, in dairy products particularly she had made tremendous strides. When the old reciprocity treaty existed between the United States and the Dominion, the trade of the Maritime provinces and a large part of the other provinces was in the hands of a few merchants of New York and Boston. Now Canadian merchants export direct.

THE STRIKE.

Operator Claims Union Interferes With Interstate Commerce.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Oct. 11.—President Mitchell arrived at the strike headquarters from New York this morning. He was immediately requested by reporters for an interview, but he steadfastly declined to talk of his New York trip for publication. When asked why he maintained such reticence regarding his visit, he replied: "I think the best interests of the operators, the miners and the public will be served by my remaining silent."

Mr. Mitchell's attention was called to the letter of Vice-President Wilcox, of the Delaware & Hudson Company, to President Roosevelt, in which he tends that the miners' union is an illegal organization. The strike leader hesitated a minute and then replied: "The miners' union is organized along the same lines as all labor unions in the country. If the miners' organization is illegal, so are all the others; and I say our union is not illegal."

Washington, Oct. 10.—The letter received by President Roosevelt from David Wilcox, of the Delaware & Hudson Railway Company, says in part: "As already said, the Mine Workers' combination does not merely restrain interstate commerce, but absolutely destroys it. Can it be seriously claimed that while a combination which restrains shipments out of the state would be illegal, one which absolutely prevents them, would not. It seems very clear that a suit would lie against the members of the Mine Workers' Association as a combination in restraint of interstate commerce within the act of July 2, 1890, and that a preliminary injunction would be granted, which could be enforced by all the power of the national government. This precise course was followed in the Delco case, and was supported by the courts, not merely on account of interference with the mails, but also on the ground of restraint of shipments from one state to another. It is submitted that this course would be proper in the present case. It would destroy the illegal combination to which the present strike is due. The Delaware & Hudson Company, therefore, most earnestly requests that proper action be taken under the aforesaid statute."

STATUE TO GLADSTONE.

Lord Rosebery Unveils One at Glasgow

Glasgow, Oct. 11.—Lord Rosebery this afternoon unveiled a statue of Mr. Gladstone in George's Square, representing the statesman as attired in the robes of lord rector of Glasgow university. An immense crowd was present. Lord Rosebery made an eloquent address, but avoided commenting upon the statue. He said that the reason that men of all parties had contributed to the memorial, he, however, eulogized Mr. Gladstone's character, talent, industry and labors along the lines of religion and literature.

THE MUTUAL CAN NOW CLAIM, AND WITH PERFECT JUSTICE, TO BE A LEADING BRITISH OFFICE.

Its success on this side of the water has been phenomenal. Within fifteen years it has attained to a foremost position. The company's premium income was $2,500,000, and the new policies issued numbered 2,407, insuring $1,444,220. This marvelous development in so short a space of time is without precedent, and it has naturally aroused in some quarters a feeling of jealousy and hostility. The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York, however, is a fact, and we attribute their success in this country principally to a revolt against the iron-bound administration of many of our native offices. The Mutual Life has survived all the assaults delivered against it, and has now got a name and reputation second to none.

Burlington Train Robbed Near Lincoln, Nebraska.

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 11.—The Burlington, St. Louis, Pacific Coast express, which left Lincoln for the Northwest at 1:20 a.m., was held up five miles out of the city. Three men, all masked, boarded the engine, after waving lanterns and causing the engineer to stop the train. The engineer and firemen were forced to leave the cab, and accompanied the robbers to the express car. The express messenger refused to open the doors and the robbers, who were armed with dynamite, hit the messenger, Wm. Lupton, was injured. The big safe was blown open and the supposition is that the robbers secured the contents.

THE KING.

Returns to London After His Holiday.

London, Oct. 11.—King Edward ended his long holiday with a visit to Berwick, Scotland. Since the King started on his yachting cruise, for health, he has grown wonderfully well, but excessively stout. He never looked better and according to one of those who accompanied the royal party, he feels in better health now than he has been for years past.

Simultaneously with the King's return to London, tonight, society was back to the metropolis. By October 25, the day set for the King's ride through the streets, which promises to be a great military show, London will be crowded. Already most of the hotels are booked up for procession week.

INSIST ON GETTING MARRIED.

U. S. STEEL DECISION.

Justice Van Sickle's Opinion on Directors' Act.

Trenton, N. J., Oct. 11.—Justice Van Sickle today filed in the Court of Errors his written opinion in the case of M. Berger against the United States Steel corporation, which was decided a short time ago in favor of the corporation. The opinion is an elaborate and exhaustive one, covering 36 pages. In the opinion Justice Van Sickle holds that the general action concerning corporations authorizes corporations to retire shares of stock purchased with bonds or the proceeds of bonds; that the directors may declare how many shares are to be retired, and that the failure to retire that number will not defeat the plan. The act of 1902, which was passed especially for the benefit of the United States Steel corporation, Justice Van Sickle says, does not enlarge the company's power, because they were under the General Corporation Act, but rather restricts them. The company has power to sell bonds on the market or to sell them to stockholders at the same value. Taking up the point raised by Mr. Berger that J. P. Morgan & Co., who received $100,000,000 commission were overpaid, the opinion says: "Individual stockholders cannot question in judicial proceedings corporate acts of directors, if the same are within the power of the corporation, are not unlawful or against public morals, and are done in good faith, in the exercise of an honest judgment. The manner in which a duly authorized plan is carried through is part of the business of the corporation, and in the absence of fraud is not the subject of judicial control to any greater extent than other business of the corporation. The court cannot substitute its judgment for that of the directors, and a majority of the stockholders and say that a less expensive plan could have been successfully adopted."

FRENCH STRIKE.

Gendarme Kills One Man and Wounds Others.

Paris, Oct. 11.—A despatch from St. Etienne announces that a serious riot occurred yesterday evening between gendarmes and strikers at the coal field of Terre Noire. Strikers overturned a number of coal wagons, and their gendarmes wounded a striker with a revolver. Two gendarmes who arrived on the scene were attacked by strikers, who stoned them. One of the gendarmes was knocked to the ground unconscious. The wounded gendarme's comrade thereupon fired his revolver and killed him. A striker, killed a second man behind him and wounded a third. The strikers then assailed the gendarmery depot. Four other gendarmes were wounded before the strikers were repulsed. The strikers were extending.

ORGANIZED LABOR.

Meeting of Bakers' Union—Musicians to Organize Today.

The Bakers and Confectioners' Union held a special meeting in Labor hall last night, and decided to raise the initiation fee to $5 after the 15th instant. All the journeymen bakers, with but two or three exceptions, are now members of the union. The secretary reported that he had received 10,000 labels to be used on bread baked by members of the union, and 70,000 more are on the way from headquarters.

A union of musicians is to be formed this afternoon under the American Federation of Musicians. The union is called for 3 o'clock in Labor hall. The object of organizing is to unite the musicians of Victoria and vicinity for the better protection of their interests, to regulate the prices and all business appertaining to the musical profession, and the enforcement of good faith and fair dealing between its members.

On these Fair days it is only fair to state that Hattie's Fair is the best money-maker for you of all the fairs, and the one you can least afford to neglect. One of the most successful money-makers for you is because you make a big saving on every purchase, and another reason is because you get nearly every article you require, thereby saving you worry, time, and shoe leather, making you a dozen or more different places before you could get what you want.

The train between the Dominion Hotel and the Exhibition grounds was a busy institution during the day of Fair week, and so was the Dominion Hotel. Of course, the people had to be fed and properly housed, just the same as though they were at home, hence this condition of affairs.

On Monday, October 13, The Sterling, 30 Government street, will be the scene of another big slaughter sale, and will continue until the entire stock is disposed of. The balance of the fair week's consignment of goods to be sold, which, for convenience, has been removed to The Sterling. See their ad. on 8th page for particulars.

"The Imperial Mixture" is a tobacco manufactured and put up in 1/2, 3/4, and 1-lb. tins, expressly for the Hudson's Bay Co. The blend is said to be a superior one and gives the highest degree of satisfaction to those who can appreciate a really good article.

Note the procession and prices of breakfast foods and groceries in Mowat and Wallace's ad. on top left-hand corner of 7th page of The Colonist. It beats all other ways they can do it, but they do it all the same.

Now is the time to consider the purchase of your winter suit; and while you may not yet have decided what you are going to get or where you are going to get it, a call-in at the Fit-Reform (Yardrobe, Government street) will soon settle both these questions for you in a satisfactory manner.

The great slaughter sale now going on at Wescott Bros., 88 Yates street, is the source of many bargains in all kinds of general merchandise and housewares. The special attractions for the past week at Challoner & Mitchell's palatial jewelry store were simply immense, and the prices ranging for many of the articles sold were within a hair's breadth of the cost.

This fine store was one glare of brilliancy from morning until night, and when the beautifully arranged electric lights were turned on, it so enhanced the splendour as to almost throw its daylight appearance into insignificance. The store was visited by thousands of people during the week, many of whom expressed themselves as fully repaid for their time and money spent in viewing the splendid and beautiful collection of jewelry and that of Weller Bros., which is always one of the attractions of the city.

The Traveling Library Appreciated in the District.

Saanichton, Oct. 11.—The new traveling library has just arrived; it brings splendid opportunities for mental improvement. It is impossible to overestimate its value. Emerson, Herbert Spencer, Macaulay, Kents and many other great thinkers are represented. Let no one say he cannot have good society if he wishes; and the best of the society of these philosophers is, that they are too great to humiliate you; in their thoughts they live into only one thing, that is to enable you—not themselves.

THE EXHIBITION.

The exhibition is now over. The verdict of all is that it has been a great success and a marked advance upon last year. The attendances have been particularly good, and the large number of people able to enjoy themselves in this way certainly does not give the impression to the casual observer that times are at all hard in the city of Victoria.
In fact the observation most frequently made by visitors to the city during the last week or two has been that times appear to be particularly good. We know of none except the chronic pessimists who will feel inclined to contradict this observation. The exhibition has been successful, and all praise is due to the self-sacrificing exertions of those who made it so. It is now firmly established as an annual institution, and that is one result of this year's exhibition which must be most satisfactory to all who are interested in the progress and prosperity of the city of Victoria. To our mind, however, there is no sufficient reason why revenue should not show a balance over expenditure. There is nothing which gives an institution more solidity and respectability than a balance in the bank. This is true of individuals and it is also true of institutions. Different sections of the exhibition work may well be left to different committees, but the relation of the expenditures of these different committees to each other, and to the general revenue, is a matter which an unwieldy central authority or general committee cannot watch over to advantage. It is very satisfactory that a balance between revenue and expenditure appears to be so nearly established this year. We shelter ourselves from over severity under the wings of a proverb by saying that this has been more due to good luck than good guidance. We do not mean that there has been bad guidance on the part of any one responsible, but merely that system of management is incapable of producing the best results. It requires more centralization to be effective.

JOHN MITCHELL, PRESIDENT.

Who is the real president of the United States, Theodore Roosevelt or John Mitchell? Some little time ago the former addressed the latter in terms of appeal. But the language of John Mitchell to Theodore Roosevelt is not by any means the language of appeal. "Having in mind," he says, "our experience with the coal operators in the past, we have no reason to feel any degree of confidence in their willingness to do us justice in the future; and, inasmuch as they have refused to accept the decision of a tribunal selected by you, and inasmuch as there is no law through which you could enforce the findings of the commission you suggest, we respectfully decline to advise our people to return to work simply upon the hope that the coal operators might be induced or forced to comply with the recommendations of your commission." The tone of that communication reminds us more of a protocol in a diplomatic correspondence, than a letter from a citizen to the president of his country. We pointed out at the time of his interference that President Roosevelt ran a grave risk of compromising his sovereignty, or we should not say his, but the sovereignty of the American people. It is true that he intervened only in a personal capacity.

But it was by virtue of his position as president of the United States that his intervention in a personal capacity carried any force. And if his intervention did not carry force enough, as it did not, the reaction of his failure affects, not Theodore Roosevelt, but the president.
He disarmed himself of the power and authority resident in the representative of a sovereign people. He could not do otherwise if he intervened at all. Yet by doing so, he left the representative of a sovereign people open to a rebuff at the hands of whom? Of John Mitchell.
It was an experiment which success might have justified, but the dangerous features of which failure has brought into bold relief. So much for the relations between John Mitchell and the President of the United States. But John Mitchell has been in communication with others as well, or rather, that the relative importance of the parties may be properly understood, others have been in communication with him. On the 9th of October Benjamin F. Tracy, Albert B. Bordin and D. H. Bacon, president of the Tennessee Coal & Iron & Railroad Company, called upon John Mitchell. After they had seen him, Gen. Tracy said: "We came to see President Mitchell on the bituminous strike in Alabama. We spoke of the situation of the employees of the Tennessee Coal, Iron & Railroad Co. Mr.
Mitchell received us well and heard our statement of the facts. We made a favorable impression, I think, and have hoped that the result of our interview will be favorable to us." Surely that is humble enough. It reminds us of a delegation of business men to the autocratic governor of a Crown Colony. These gentlemen, millionaires, magnates of the most superlative degree, "have hopes" of a favorable outcome from an interview with John Mitchell. Who is this John Mitchell? He is the president of a labor union and the general of a strike. That is all. To what extent are the individual qualities of the man involved in the extraordinary position he occupies apart from his representative position? This anthracite coal strike bears the marks of genius. According to our different ideas, we may call it Heaven-born, or the reverse. But genius there is undoubtedly in evidence. It must have taken the most remarkable and exact calculation to know that the miners would hold out from the 12th of May till the beginning of winter, when the lack of coal would assume national proportions. It must also have required tremendous organizing and executive ability to keep the ranks firm in such an immense union. Mr. John Mitchell must have known exactly the strength and durability of the machine under his control, and as that machine was composed of impressionable human beings, his knowledge and successful manipulation indicate genius of a very high order. This anthracite coal strike is like no other strike which has ever taken place. Many attempts have been made to effectually paralyze an industry. In the great railway strike, of which E. V.
Debs was the John Mitchell, the attempt was made to pull out the Lynch pin which holds society together. It failed, but this strike has so far succeeded. The final outcome of the strike is impossible to predict; its moral and social bearings we prefer not to charac-terize, but as a phenomenon in the evolution of industry, it is by far the most startling and the most pregnant with results which has ever appeared.

"Do not believe all the party papers say. Their duty is to make trouble. I know it for I have been in the business twenty-five years." So remarks the versatile, Mr. J. Israel Tarte. If Mr.
Tarte has been in the business of making trouble for twenty-five years he shows no symptoms of making an assignment because times are bad with him in that business.

The Montreal, N. B., Times takes the trouble to deal with a certain report of Mr. H. A. Powell's speech at Revelstoke. The report in question appeared in a Revelstoke paper, the Mail. The opponents of Mr. Powell must be hard up for material against him if they use such a misleading and incorrect report.
The Montreal Times need hardly have taken the trouble to reply to it.

The proposed action of the Western Federation of Miners to assist the Pennsylvania strikers by tying up the Western coal mines where there is no dispute between the miners and mine operators would be the most vicious and useless application of a sympathetic strike ever heard of. Western coal does not and cannot take the place of Eastern coal. Such a strike would not, therefore assist the Pennsylvania miners in the struggle in the slightest particular and such a wanton abuse of the power of bringing on a strike would soon heap upon those who fathered it its own penalty.

This is what lots of people have been asking.

still some more to follow; this, with our home trade has completely de-

THE VALUE OF COMMAS.

Recently a school inspector arrived at a small town in Germany, and requested the mayor to accompany him on a tour of inspection round the schools.
The mayor, as he put on his hat, muttered to himself, "I should like to know why that ass has come so soon again," a remark which the inspector overheard but affected to ignore. Arrived at the first school, he began to examine the pupils in punctuation, but was told by the mayor, "We don't trouble about commas and such like." The inspector merely told one of the boys to write on the blackboard: "The mayor of Ritzelbuttel says the inspector is an ass."
"Now," he added, "put a comma after "Ritzelbuttel," and another after "inspector." The boy did so. The mayor is believed to have changed his opinion as to the value of commas.

Conditions in The Kootenays

Mining Engineer From Ross-land Talks of Outlook In Upper Country.

A General Improvement In Conditions a Notable Feature In Every District.

J. Fred Ritchie, the well known mining engineer of Rossland district, is at present in the city, being a guest at the Diarr.

Mr. Ritchie is a pioneer of the Kootenays, having witnessed the growth of Rossland from its birth to its present proportions, and is therefore in a position to be able to speak with some degree of authority regarding conditions in the Kootenays. Rossland, he says, is fast regaining the position which it occupied previous to the collapse of the unfortunate boom; and now that it has been amply demonstrated that the camp possesses in its mineral bodies a vast quantity of low grade ores, which are capable of being treated profitably, a feeling of confidence pervades the community and the district generally. For a time, Mr. Ritchie confesses, Rossland, and all those who have the best interests of the Kootenays at heart, despaired of the future of the mining industry, believing that the discredit which was born of a most iniquitous trafficking in stocks would be bound to damn the country forever in the eyes of the investing public; but as now the major portion of the gang which was responsible for the maladministration of investments has been driven into a position of comparative obscurity, the camp has been enabled to "get upon its feet again," and all classes of citizens are jubilant over the outlook for the future.

The labor troubles which for a time drew down heavy clouds of doubt and despair upon Rossland have all been dissipated, and now mine managers and mine laborers are working most harmoniously together.

THE ELMORE PROCESS.

A new process for concentrating ores by the use of oil is being introduced in Rossland. The increased percentage of recovery of values and the higher grade of concentrates, when compared with the results obtained by water concentration methods, clearly demonstrates the superiority of the former. The Elmore process, which has recently been experimented upon in the camp appears to be specially applicable to low-grade sulphide ores, especially such as have a tendency to slime when crushed, and for treating tailings from old concentrates. Experiments seem also to have demonstrated the feasibility of separating at a small cost, sulphides such as magnetite, pyrite, from oxides such as hematite, etc.

THE BOUNDARY.

The Boundary creek district is again on the move. The local smelters were never doing as cheap and profitable work as at present. The British Columbia Copper Company's smelter is so busy smelting the ores from its own mine—the Modoc Lode—that it cannot accept custom ores for treatment. The result is that the Standard smelter, below the town of Greenwood, is overcrowded with ores from the British Columbia and Snowshoe mines, and cannot smelt much of its own company's ores. The British Columbia Copper Company is now freighting and smelting their ores at a cost of less than $2 per ton.

The entire country is emerging slowly from the incubus of wild cat operations. It is quite true to say that it never was in so good and stable an industrial condition as at present. Many Americans are arriving in the country looking it over, with a view to investment. Several rich strikes of ore have recently been made close to Greenwood. To give one example of the richness of the ore deposits in the Boundary country, adjacent to Greenwood, it may be mentioned that at the property of the Granby company, at Phoenix, five miles up the hill from Greenwood, the most highly developed property in the district, one may see a continuous ore deposit 2,500 feet long, 300 feet wide and with a proven depth of over 400 feet. The company's smelting plant at present has a capacity of 1,500 tons daily, and it can easily be figured out how long the ore in sight will feed the plant, counting, say, 15 cubic feet of ore to the ton.

Mr. Ritchie is naturally an enthusiast regarding the future of British Columbia, as indeed, all men here are. He will remain in the city for a few days.

MAKING BIG MONEY.

Greenwood Smelter, Raking in the Shelds.

Greenwood smelters are running full blast, says the Boundary Creek Times, and are making big profits. Although no figures are given out it is stated that A Nervous Wreck Weak and Exhausted.

Could Scarcely Drag Herself About the House, But Found New Health and Strength and Gained Eleven Pounds While Using

DR. CHASE'S NERVE FOOD

Take the case of Mrs. West, as described in her letter quoted below. She was pale, weak and run down in health. Her blood was thin and watery, and her nerves so starved and exhausted that she was prostrated. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food cured her, and added new firm flesh to her body to the extent of eleven pounds. You will find her letter interesting.

Mrs. S. W. West, Drayton, Wellington County, Ont., writes: "About two years ago I got terribly run down, and finally became a victim of nervous prostration. I had no appetite, seemed to lose interest and ambition, and could scarcely drag myself about. Hearing of good results from the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, I used three boxes with great benefit. In a short time I gained eleven pounds, and as I was very thin when I began to use the remedy I was very proud of the increase of weight."

"The following spring I became rather poorly, and they again built me up, and gave me such a good appetite that I wanted to eat nearly half the time. I was so pleased with the cure that Dr. Chase's Nerve Food brought about that I recommended it to others, and they have told me of the benefits they had obtained from this preparation. You may use this testimonial in order that others may learn of the good there is in Dr. Chase's Nerve Food."

If you have been affected as Mrs. West has, if you are not feeling right strong and well, you will be surprised at the good that Dr. Chase's Nerve Food will do you. It puts color in the cheeks, rounds out angular and wasted forms, and brings new hopes, new confidence and new life to take the place of despondency, weakness and disease. 50 cents a box, 6 boxes for $2.50, at all druggists, or Edman, Bates & Co., Toronto.

net profit from the Mother Lode ore is over $150 per ton.

The ore from the upper glory holes is of much higher grade, but only about 150 tons a day is shipped from them, although the mine is shipping 800 tons daily, and the smelter is treating upwards of 750 daily.

A carload of matte is sent to the concentrator every day, and each car is worth over $4,000, so that it can be easily seen that the smelter is making big money.

KASLO ORE SHIPMENTS.

Small Volume for Past Week—Waiting For Snow Roads.

Kaslo, Oct. 11.—(Special)—The ore shipments this week have been very light through this port, and are as follows:

Rail to Nelson, 124 tons.
R. E. Lee to Kaslo, 44 tons.
Silver Glance to Everett, 43 tons.
Antoine to Nelson, 44 tons.
Total, 255 tons.

Wm. English, of the Maple Leaf, Woodberry Creek, reports that he has shipped a car of ore from that claim showing very rich results, and says there is a large quantity of ore in the mine. The Pontiac, on the same creek, is all in readiness for shipping as soon as hiding commences, and other claims in the same section are showing activity.

MINING NOTES.

The Boman at New Denver has a heavy winter's work mapped out. It will be an important shipper of zinc to Kansas in the near future. The Young Rambler, on the K. & S. right of way, just about 200 yards from the McGowan station, Paysback. The second future mine just started at the trail smelter, thus materially increasing the treatment at the smelter. Work on No. 1 furnace, which is the largest in the country, is being rushed. It will be blown in as soon as completed.

The machinery for the stamp mill at the Wilcox mine is now on its way from San Francisco. The buildings at the mine are nearly ready for its reception, and it is expected that the installation will be completed and the mill running before the end of the year. The aerial tramway from the Fourth of July tunnel to the mill is already completed. Word was received in Nelson recently to the effect that the lead has been struck of the Foshorn property, in the Wilcox district. The driving of a crosscut to catch this lead has been a very expensive piece of work, and a number of contracts let for the work were thrown up from time to time.

Mr. Fritz and C. W. Hargrave, the discoverers of the property which caused such a stampede into the Kettle River country some weeks ago, are in New Denver, says the Ledger. They have a fine sample of the ore, which has the appearance of being very high grade, assaying 500 ozs. silver, a high percentage in copper and lead, and small values in gold. It is a galena ore containing nearly ready for its reception, and it is expected that the installation will be completed and the mill running before the end of the year. The aerial tramway from the Fourth of July tunnel to the mill is already completed. Word was received in Nelson recently to the effect that the lead has been struck of the Foshorn property, in the Wilcox district. FEAR OF THE FUTURE.

Most people who dread the future are victims of some terrible disease. Mrs. W. F. Ritchie, 20 Colborne street, Kingston, in a bad state with kidney disease. She had severe pains in back and legs, was gradually losing weight and felt a dread of the future. Her friend recommended Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and the result was a complete cure. There is no more pain, and she is now able to produce a fine, healthy child. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box.

Keep your eye on Dixi H. Ross & Co.'s ad. all the time, because you never can tell just where they are going to hit next. The most likely place for them to hit, however, is in the stomach, although it is not the least likely that it makes matters different entirely if you feel that your stomach needs a little something.

Important Engagement

James Neill and Edythe Chapman At the Victoria All This Week.

The Favorites in a Selection of Fine Plays—Royal Italian Band.

The next attraction at the Victoria Theatre will be the James Neill company, who open a week's engagement to-morrow evening. Mr. Neill hardly needs any introduction to the theatre-goers of Victoria. He has made many friends here, who will welcome his return. To his charming wife a visit to Victoria and Vancouver is one of the chief delights of the season. (Vancouver being the next.) She has a fondness for Canadian audiences and their ability to appreciate what is good in a play. When seen in Portland recently, Mrs. Neill said that she was counting the days to their Victoria date, and for her the time could not pass quickly enough. Mr. Neill is in fine form this season, and has abandoned some of the matinees which he called for adverse comment in the past. He does not pose; he has surrounded himself with a thoroughly capable company, and every one has a chance to show his or her ability in the plays put on. In Portland the company was very popular and was playing to big business, and winning the warm praise of that conservative and absolutely non-gushing paper, the Oregonian. The Neill company opens to-morrow evening with the well-known but very pretty romantic comedy-drama, "A Bachelor's Romance." This was a great favorite when produced here before. On Tuesday evening the bill will be "Prince Karl." On Wednesday will be given the new play by Opie Read, "The Starbuck's." Opie Read calls it a "character drama," and that is as good a name as any, the interest centering in the portrayal of a number of highly original and original types. What plot there is concerns itself with the arrest of an old Tennessee, Jasper Starbuck, for "moonshining," by an hereditary enemy who has been refused by Starbuck's daughter, and given some dexterity; woven to hold the play together in a most ingenious manner. All of the characters are said to have been sketched in with a sure and sympathetic hand and well worthy of Mr. Read's incomparable method. The famous author in this play is said to have caught the characteristic tang of pastoral life in the Tennessee hills, and given some-thing to an almost Dickens-like diffuseness of description; yet contrives with it to infuse the same effective realism of atmosphere. The lines are said to be delightfully humorous, though, as might be expected of anything that Opie Read might write. Thursday evening the historical Salvanesque drama, "Under the Red Robe," will be given. This story of court and camp love and intrigue needs no describing. Friday evening will be presented what Mr. Neill considers one of his greatest successes, "The Heart of a Hero," another play which, like "The Bachelor's Romance," was written to display at their best the unique personality and talent of the late Sol. Smith Russell. John Grigsby, Court bard, and the friend of the poor, defender of the weak and helpless. He is opposed to slavery, and even at the risk of his own happiness and that of whom he loves, he refuses to be bought and sold. He is ambitious, but not servile, and as a result he fights the battle of politics against the odds, winning a position on the Supreme Court bench, and incidentally the girl whom he has befriended and who has his heart is given. The villain of the play, not entirely content with proclaiming his business abroad, put it in the official columns of the Vancouver County Gazette. Mr. Neill in this play is said by his press agent to exhibit the repose that comes to actors only after years of training—and even then comes not to many. His part affords chances to rise above the level of conversational tones, and throughout he is said to be effective by delicate shadings and a power to convey subtleties of thought without undue emphasis of speech or gesture. The bits of humor which lighten the part of John Grigsby are said to be spoken with that unctious quality, and in the occasional more violent moments the actor plays in a correct key of emotional excitement. Consideration of "The Heart of a Hero" must deal largely with Mr. Neill personally. The old-time managers are said to be well suggested in scenery and costume.

VICTORIA
THE BEAUTIFUL

An Attractive Book in Preparation By The Tourist Association.

There is now in course of preparation a book of about 32 pages, devoted to the advantages of Victoria from a tourist and commercial standpoint, that will do much to attract attention to our beautiful city. The task of preparing it has been assigned to Mr. Herbert Cuthbert, manager of the Tourist Association.

A portion of the expense will be borne by the Board of Trade, and 4,000 copies will be issued by that body as a supplement to their annual report. At least 10,000 copies will be circulated by the Tourist Association.

The book will have an attractive lithographed cover that will be distinctive of Victoria, the back of it being an appropriate design which will be copyrighted by Mr. Cuthbert. The illustrations will be superior to anything that has yet been published in this city. A strong feature of the book is that all the work is being done in Victoria, the lithographic work and the letterpress being done by The Colonist and the engraving by the British Columbia Photo-Engraving Co.; and from the advance proofs, issued yesterday, the public may look for an agreeable surprise in a fine example of local industry.

In having the work done by local firms the Tourist Association is only following out its policy in assisting local industries in every possible way. The work will be completed in about two weeks.

IMPORTANT APPOINTMENT.

Government Decides to Name Mr. Rodrick Tolmie Deputy Minister of Mines.

The rapidly increasing importance of the mining industry of the province, and the immense volume of work which such expansion entails upon the officials of the Department of Mines, has made it apparent for some time past that the services of a man of practical experience in the details of administration were needed to assist the minister, and the government has been considering the appointment of a Deputy Minister of Mines.

The appointment has not been actually made, but it is generally understood that the choice has fallen upon Mr. Rodrick Tolmie, and that he will assume the important duties of Deputy Minister in a few days.

Mr. Tolmie served the government in various capacities—including that of gold commissioner—for nineteen years, and during all that time gave complete satisfaction to the public and the government.

CAREFUL OF HIS TRAINING.

On the occasion of a visit of a travelling circus to a small town in the boys of the surrounding country were all agog with excitement, raised by the flaming posters and gorgeous procession.

The young son of a notoriously close-fisted old farmer rushed in to his father and eagerly importuned him for sixpence with which to "see the circus."

"What!" exclaimed the old skinflint, "sixpence to see the circus, and here only six pence I let you go up to Farmer Jones field to see the eclipse of the moon. Young man, do you want your life to be one perpetual round of gaiety?"

TRINITY UNIVERSITY.

Toronto's Great School Enters Upon Its Fifty-Second Year.

Trinity University is entering today upon its 52nd year of work with overflowing classes, crowded residences, and larger numbers than ever before. In Trinity college itself the residence accommodation has been so taxed that the custom which has prevailed lately of allowing a limited number of graduates to continue their residence in college, has perforce come to an end, and they have had to make room for undergraduate students. In St. Hilda's college also the residence accommodation is taxed to the utmost capacity, so much so indeed that rooms intended for other purposes have been appropriated by the students. The enrolment of students this year would tax the capacity of the colleges to the utmost, and accordingly initial steps have already been taken looking to increased accommodation for next year.

Important additions have been made to the university curriculum by the inauguration of a honor course in political science. In the arrangements for this course the Trinity authorities have enjoyed the assistance of several of the most eminent jurists through the kindness of Mr. Christopher Robinson, K. C., as well as of practical educationalists. It is the intention of the authorities to spare no pains or expense in making this course, both as to the curriculum and as to the lecturers as strong as it is possible for it to be made.

Several additions to the university staff are pending in connection with the new political science course, and one or two in other departments of work, but the only change in the staff at the present time, as compared with last year, is in the Department of Modern Languages, where the name of Mr. Robert Jenkins, M. A., of the University of Toronto, is substituted for that of Mr. A. H. Young, who has obtained a year's leave of absence for the purpose of further study in the universities of France and Germany. The addition of another professor in this department has been formally decided upon, and the appointment will be made as soon as the right man can be found.

The various professors met their classes on Saturday morning for the purpose of organization, and the regular work of the term commences at 9 o'clock on Monday. The Provost has invited all the students of Trinity and St. Hilda's colleges to meet himself and the other members of the staff, in the Convocation hall on Saturday evening, from 8 to 11 o'clock, for the formal inauguration of the work of the year, followed by a social evening, which will give opportunity of new comers to make the acquaintance of their fellow-students. It is a matter of sincere satisfaction to the authorities to feel that their induements in making the university better known in British Columbia have met with distinguished success.

This is owing in a great measure to the untiring efforts of Mr. J. W. Laing, M. A., Oxon, headmaster of the Collegiate school in Victoria, who has been appointed our assistant registrar in British Columbia and by whose means Gerald Potts is now an enrolled member of the university, having obtained the proficiency scholarship for the province, while a scholar of the Collegiate school, and several others have passed the examinations for entrance and degrees.

We appeal to the alumni of Trinity University now resident in British Columbia to support Mr. Laing in his good work.
